INTRODUCTION

Call for papers and performances: Pianists, teachers, musicologists, musicians in general and piano students of universities and / or official institutions are invited to submit an application for presentation at the Second International Piano Conference in Buenos Aires, Argentina, December 4-7, 2014.

The First International Piano Conference was held in 2010 in order to contribute to the progressive development of Latin American repertoire and piano pedagogy based in such repertoire. The focus of the 2nd international Piano Conference is the advancement of Piano Interpretation discipline (execution and theoretical reflection) through learning, sharing, disseminating, promoting, evaluating and approaching pedagogical compositions in a Latin American context.

The National University Institute of Art (IUNA), organizes the Second Conference after four years. We will be discussed and exhibited exclusive techniques on piano interpretation and pianists, encompassing teaching, academic compositions, virtuosity in performance, projections and theoretical reflections and influence about this matter.

We will do roundtable discussions with the presence of prominent guests and panelists, concerts and, lecture-recitals with a rich and varied repertoire especially Latin American music.

The 2nd Piano International piano Conference aims to:

- a) Pianistic Virtuosity in Latin American composers: Influences-Projections-Aesthetic.
- b) Piano-Pedagogy in Latin America.
- c) Influences and projections of Latin American music for piano.
- d) Different aesthetics in which Latin American compositions is enrolled.
